SPAIN READY TO FIGHT ON TEUTON SIDE

FIRST MOVE WILL BE TO THROW LARGE ARMY
AGAINST GIBRALTAR

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—The diplomatic colony here was agitated today to the effect that Spain is about to enter the European war upon the side of the Teutonic powers.

The task assigned to Spain, according to the report, is the capture of Gibraltar, which for two centuries has given Great Britain command of the western entrance to the Mediterranean Sea.

The loss of Gibraltar would be a terrible blow to the sea power and prestige of England. Either its loss or the necessity of diverting huge resources to its defense might prove the decisive element in the great war. For that reason more than ordinary credence is attached to the reports that Germany and Austria are subjecting Spain to extraordinary pressure to undertake this diversion against the interests of the seas.

Official Report to Embassy.
The report appears to have reached Washington in official communication to one of the Teutonic embassies. This communication, it is alleged, indicated that Austria, by virtue of the ties of a common religion and royal consanguinity uniting the two monarchies, had succeeded in obtaining the assistance of Spain.

At both the German and Austrian embassies it was emphatically denied that any information concerning the actions of Spain has been received. In the atmosphere of suspicion and mystery which envelops diplomatic affairs, however, this denial only served to strengthen the belief among the officials of the belligerents and other foreign governments that there is some foundation to the report.

Spain Gets Many Arms.
The gossip gained color from the fact that recently Spain has been laying in large supplies of arms, ammunition and other equipment and had mobilized a part of its army. The explanation given in press dispatches was that Spain planned an attack on Portugal. It now is suspected that this explanation was given out to divert attention from its real purpose of Spain's activity, now alleged to be an attack on Gibraltar.

Although Gibraltar is supposed to be impregnable, Teutonic officials here believe that it would succumb to an attack by the Spanish army, which, it is said, now numbers 300,000 men fully equipped with modern guns and amply supplied with ammunition. Only a small garrison is maintained by Great Britain at Gibraltar and recently the activity of German and Austrian submarines in the Mediterranean has compelled the withdrawal of the British fleet from the straits.

CENSORSHIP IN FRANCE IS FIERCELY DECREED

Paris, Jan. 27.—Premier Briand, on making an impassioned speech in the chamber of deputies in defense of the censorship by the French government, encountered interruptions and at one time lively protests.

Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber, was obliged to repeat the decree to respect freedom of speech before the premier could resume his address.

Mr. Briand's assertion that the press lawman, which was silent and sealed at, was exasperated of men who had been wounded in war brought forth objections from all ranks of the chamber interspersed with the exclamations:

"Honte! honte!"

Premier Briand said it must not be forgotten that France was at war. The government, he told the members of the chamber, wanted explanations so as to know what policy to pursue in regard to the relationship during the war.

He then added:

"Premier Briand said it must not be forgotten that France was at war. The government, he told the members of the chamber, wanted explanations so as to know what policy to pursue in regard to the relationship during the war."

Why Tolerate Cataract?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold engorges nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucus makes you feel that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to grow, injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To cure it entirely, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on nostrils, and take a spoonful of Scott's Camphor after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes.

Scott's is pleasant to take.

HERE'S HARD ONE; TRY IT ON YOUR ADDING MACHINE

IT'S STUCK CLERKS, SER-
GEANTS AND POLICEMEN
AS WELL AS TEACHERS

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—Here is a problem in arithmetic that policemen, clerks and desk sergeants at Newstead avenue station have been trying to figure out since 7 o'clock last night and no two solutions agree.

A man and a woman, both well dressed, stopped in the restaurant of Mrs. Marie Wies, 4 North Sarah street. The woman wanted a "Tom and Jerry," and the man wanted a "highball," but they said they did not want to go into an adjoining saloon to get the drinks. They ordered sandwiches and paid for them. Mrs. Wies volunteered to get the drinks and bring them to the restaurant.

The bill for the drinks was 25 cents. The man gave Mrs. Wies a $2 bill and she gave him a paper dollar and 75 cents in silver. He then added a quarter to the 25 cents and asked Mrs. Wies to give him a paper dollar. She complied. He then added another quarter dollar to this one and asked Mrs. Wies to exchange it for the $2 bill.

When this was done the couple left the restaurant. Mrs. Wies thought the man over and concluded she had been short changed. She called the policeman on the beat to help her figure on the problem. He said she was out $2 and the quarter for the drinks. The desk sergeant said she lost $1 in the deal; the clerk said $2, and another policeman said she was out $3.

Experts at police headquarters said she did not lose anything in the transaction. Figure it out yourself.
